Agricultural Assoc. Meeting Interesting

Although the meeting of the Gleichen Agricultural Association last Thursday evening was not attended by as many as should have been present and the items of business transacted were few, still a very interesting time was spent.

After the usual adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting a very satisfactory report was made by the entertainment committee of the rally held in February, which was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Prowse gave an interesting report of his visit to Edmonton as delegate to the Agricultural Fair Association and said he had secured the 15th and 16th of August as the dates for the holding of the Gleichen fair this year. He interviewed Mr. Galbraith regarding grants, who informed him that grants could be obtained only provided the quality of the exhibits was maintained at a high standard.

He also outlined the School Fair idea as explained by the Department in their circular letters, but as it requires not less than ten schools to enter into the competition it was the opinion of the meeting there was not time for it this year and it would be better to start in early next.

On motion $25.00 was voted Mr. Prowse to go towards his expenses as delegate.

Mr. Beach thought the time was now opportune for the co-ordination of the various town and country activities so that the requirements of each could not only be asked for but demanded. His idea was not a board of trade but something more comprehensive than that and suggested that it meet 12 or 24 times a year.

After considerable discussion a motion carried that the Association meet the first Thursday each month and another that all members present impress upon all the members that they should prepare to lay grievances, whether concerning the town or government, before the meetings so that demand can be made on the proper authorities.

A. C. McKay Discussed Municipal Hospital

Sunday afternoon A. C. McKay of Edmonton called a meeting in the Union church to discuss the forming of a municipal hospital district. He thoroughly discussed the need of hospitals and explained the working of the act.

The main issue to start with is the boundaries of the district, which Mr. McKay explained required to be of large proportions in order that the necessary tax will not fall too heavily on a few.

He desired to emphatically state he had nothing whatever to do with the location of a hospital or placing boundaries of a district. His duties are merely to learn the wishes of people in this matter. The various municipalities each select a delegate who meet and decide these points.

He had started out to get the feeling of the people from a point beginning at the northwest corner of a proposed district near Irricana south to Bow river, which line will strike eleven miles west of Strathmore and about twenty from Calgary. The line runs east down Bow river to twelve miles east of Gleichen, thence north to Wintering Hills and back west to Irricana.

After some discussion Mr. McKay said he would visit Carleton and proceed south of the river as far as he thought wise and then work east to learn the opinion of the people.

It will take him sometime to cover all this big district, but then he will have the information.

The district as outlined is quite impossible, but a thorough canvass can do no harm, and the information may serve to show where to place three hospitals eventually.

East Arrowwood Doings

War Savings Stamps Promote Thrift.

The Call has it on good authority that the telephone line will be extended directly south from Gleichen to a point near the old Blackfoot reserve line. This will be much appreciated by the farmers of the Arrowwood creek district.

The local School Board has had several meetings recently in regard to the proposed new building and site. A selection has been made near the proposed town-site and, in accordance with the recommendation of the Department of Education, a ten acre tract is being considered.

On Friday evening the Literary Society gave another program which seemed to be well enjoyed by the audience. An old-fashioned spelling match caused a good deal of amusement and pleasant recollections.

Miss Olive Pabst rendered a humorous recitation in a pleasing manner, after which a three-act comedy, "Between the Acts," was put on by the following cast: Dick Comfort—Elmer Hammer George Merrigale—C. E. Ferguson Uncle Meander—Jack Beagle Harris—Russel Culp Mrs. Clementina Meander—Elva Shattou Sally—Lelah Culp Edith Comfort—Gladys Beagle Considering the fact that the condition of the roads and weather limited the cast to four rehearsals, the production was exceedingly creditable.

Look over our Soldiers Roll of Honor and see if you can find some corrections.

QUEENSTOWN Namaka Doings

Mr. George Ingsmitth and Miss Clara Sale, both of Queenstown, were married last week.

Seeding started in Queenstown Monday, March 31. Roy Allen, McCallum and others began to seed on that date. Roy says he is going to show the natives how to do it.

Mr. Jack Dietz and Miss Hilda Kporen were married in Calgary last week and will reside on the Jay Ebbe place, which Jack has rented for this year. We wish them much happiness and in the meantime we are waiting for the wedding dance.

Toney Beers, with his wife and daughter has returned from California and is again living on his old farm. He is to stay a few months with the new buyer in order to teach him the mysteries of Alberta farming. By the way, the new man comes from Missouri.

For the third time the "flu" has struck the district and the Farmers' Hall has again been turned into a hospital and at the time of writing there are twenty patients in the hall. These patients are being attended to by Dr. Scott, of Bassano, and Dr. Noels, of Vulcan; a trained nurse and other volunteer nurses, etc. All the schools in the district are closed temporarily.

At this time when we hear so much about what the government are going to do for the returned soldiers, it may not be out of the way to state what they are doing to the dead ones, or rather what they are trying to do to the relatives of those boys who died on the battlefield. One of the very first boys who enlisted from Queenstown and who later was promoted for bravery, owed the government around $300 for seed grain obtained in the dry year of 1914.

Now, we would naturally think that when this boy gave up his life—that the government would be fair enough to cancel the debt. But not the Union government are now busy dunning this boy's father for the money, and I understand this is not the only case.

Two More Soldiers Home

Friday last Company Sergt.-Major Victor L. Scott and Private Ralph Prestwick arrived home from the war on the same train, both being carried through to Calgary in order to receive their discharge. They have since returned to Gleichen and are receiving a most hearty welcome home by their many friends.

Victor's father came in the Sunday previous from Queenstown and is still waiting to welcome Frank, who is expected daily. It is said it may be sometime before George arrives as he lost his papers and cannot leave England until he receives new ones.

Ralph's father and mother went up to Calgary the previous day to meet their boy, and a happy meeting it was. Gleichen is proud of these boys and all are glad to see them looking so well and happy.

E. Wilson arrived back from the front this week. R. Riggall, R. and W. Lawrie went to Calgary to meet him. Ernie went away with the 82nd and has seen much service. He was wounded three times. He is returning to work with R. Biggar near Namaka.

T. P. Lawrie, of Namaka, was one of a deputation of councillors who went to Edmonton last week. It is understood they have a promise of telephone extension north of Strathmore and Namaka and the hospital at Strathmore is to become a permanent institution.

Jankrass is nine years old, was imported as a two-year-old, and is a splendid individual with a pedigree of the most approved sort tracing to some of the best foundation stock of France through the best individuals of the breed. He is considered to be one of the best horses of the bred in America, both as an individual and as a sire.

National Getting Together

No. 2.—The Eastern Viewpoint

As a preliminary step to getting any two parties in disagreement together on common ground it is necessary that the point of view of each should first be frankly stated and understood. In last week's article it was pointed out that there were certain things upon which the East lays great stress which it must forget, and a certain attitude of mind which it must change. To consider the Eastern viewpoint first in connection with the differences now evident between East and West.

There are still hundreds of people in Eastern Canada who look upon the West in much the same light as the people of England looked upon Canada, Australia and other overseas Dominions a quarter of a century ago. That is, the people of England regarded these Dominions as mere colonies, something they had discovered, or bought, or achieved by right of conquest over other nations; something they owned and which were their sole possession. That idea no longer exists in England, but there are people in Eastern Canada who hold a somewhat similar view in regard to the West. They say that old Canada, that is, Eastern Canada, bought this country from the Hudson's Bay Co., and that they therefore own it, and they partly justify their retention of the lands and natural resources of the Western Provinces as a federal asset on that assumption. They say, too, that they went to great expense to build the C.P.R., not so much for their own benefit, as for the benefit of the West. This is a state of mind which the East must absolutely abandon if there is to be harmony and co-operation in national effort between East and West.

The East has largely passed through its pioneer stages and is now emerging into a more settled and consequently more conservative community. As an aid to its development certain policies were adopted and are generally speaking, regarded as having been wise and beneficial. Some of these policies were largely dictated by the relations which at one time existed between Britain and Canada and the United States, relations which were much less friendly and cordial than they are today. Policies of a defensive character as against the United States were popular and possibly necessary in those earlier years. The East developed in population and wealth under these policies, and such development was pronouncedly in the direction of manufacturing industry rather than in agricultural betterment. The result has been the growth of great cities and towns, and a much more rapid increase in urban than in rural population.

The East still clings strongly to the view that policies which proved advantageous to them in the past are still necessary to their prosperity and should be permanently maintained, and they consider the West narrow-minded and selfish in demanding a change. It is difficult for the East to appreciate the fact that policies and conditions which suited Canada east of the Great Lakes during the last half century are not equally applicable to a Canada extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. On the contrary, the East is constantly urging the view that under the same policy great manufacturing cities and towns will ultimately be built up in the West, and this, to their mind, is the great thing to achieve, the sine qua non of success, the acme of prosperity, and, by the creation of a "home market," the best thing possible for agriculture.

Furthermore, the East honestly and conscientiously believes that it is taking a truly national view, and that the West is adopting a narrow and an entirely sectional view. Nor does the East appreciate the fact that the Unknown West of a few years ago is today the home of more than two million Canadians, and that these people in pressing their views—as they have a right to do—are not actuated by a desire to do injury to the East and destroy its manufacturing industries. The East feels that it has largely carried the burden and borne the expense of the development of the West, that it has given our farmers their lands as free homesteads, and that the West should now accept a considerable share of the burden and not demand a radical change in national policies.

In a word, the East does not yet recognize the fact that in any march of progress there must be change from old conditions, and that because the East is the older, and conditions have become more established and fixed, it is in the policies governing those conditions that the greatest change must be effected. To the East this seems as if the "giving" was to be all on their part. It fails to recognize that all development and growth means evolution and change from present conditions, and that without such change there can be no progress. Especially does the East fail to see that such change can be effected without doing them injury.

Next week the Western viewpoint will be presented.

Cultivated Area Increasing Rapidly
The report of the Alberta minister of agriculture shows that 10,000,000 acres of land had been broken. This is about eight per cent. of the total area of agricultural land in the province. It represents, however, a gain of over two million acres over the previous year, and is more than eight times as much as the area under crop in 1909.

Germany's note on the subject of Danzig, Marshal Foch has offered to give audience, personally, at Spa, to a German plenipotentiary fully empowered to decide, within 24 hours, full particulars and required guarantees concerning the landing of Gen. TERRIBLE AGONY FROM RHEUMATISM

A Sufferer Shows How Complete Relief Was Obtained

Rheumatism is a trouble extremely difficult to get rid of. If a tendency to rheumatism is established in the system it makes itself manifest by a return of the acute pains with every spell of bad weather. This is why so many people think the trouble is due to cold or damp. The fact is known, however, to medical men, that with the appearance of rheumatism there is a rapid thinning of the blood, and that the rheumatic poisons are only expelled from the system when the blood is restored to its normal condition. This means that to drive rheumatism from the system it must be treated through the blood, and for this purpose no other medicine has been so successful as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills renew and enrich the blood, thus driving out the rheumatic poison, easing the aching, painful, swollen joints, and restoring the victim to general good health. Among the rheumatic sufferers who have been cured by the use of this medicine is Mrs. Wm. Johnston, Chatham, Ont., who says: "Some years ago, while living in Mount Forest, I was stricken with inflammatory rheumatism, from which I suffered terrible agony. Neither the doctor who attended me, nor the remedies I tried gave more than a little relief for a time, and as a consequence, I grew very weak and was on the verge of nervous prostration. At this stage an uncle advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they had cured him of a severe attack of rheumatism. I took his advice and faithfully used the pills for several months, when I found myself fully restored to health with every vestige of the rheumatism, and every symptom of the nerve trouble gone. I have had no return of either trouble since, and feel very grateful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Neutral State Around Danzig

Allies Determined to Land Poles at Baltic Port

Paris. — The Temps says that the allied and associated powers seem to have decided to disregard the German objections concerning Danzig and to land, by force if necessary, Polish troops at this Baltic seaport. But this move, says the Temps, would not necessarily imply to the mind of the allies, the union of Danzig to Poland. The newspaper adds that concerning the question of the Polish frontier, the allied governments seem inclined to create about Danzig a neutral state, in order to avoid attaching this part of the coast either to Germany or to Poland.

Marquis Wheat for Australia

Marquis wheat, grown in Saskatchewan, will be introduced to the farmers of Australia by the Australian government this spring—10,000 bushels of this variety having been ordered from the Dominion seed purchasing commission, says a dispatch from Regina, Saskatchewan. The commission has also forwarded 75,000 bushels of wheat to France.

Dual Purpose Shorthorns

Scotch Blood in the Canadian Record of Performance

The breeder of dual purpose Shorthorns is often puzzled to know where to look for a suitable sire. It is interesting, therefore, to investigate the blood lines of the noted Shorthorn sires and large producing cows whose names appear in the record of performance. The record shows twenty-five Shorthorn bulls which have two or more daughters in the Canadian record of performance. Of these bulls, nineteen are of straight Scotch breeding, and the other six are Scotch topped. It would seem, therefore, that straight Scotch and Scotch topped sires may be used successfully in dual purpose herds, which is a fact of great importance, because it is only by the use of sires or more or less approved beef type that we can hope to maintain the dual purpose qualities in the Shorthorn.

Coming to the large producing cows, we find twenty cows three years old and over with records of over 400 lbs. of butterfat. One of these cows is straight Scotch, one is straight English, mostly Bates, and the remainder are of mixed breeding. Nine of these cows are by straight Scotch sires, eight are by Scotch topped sires, and fifteen out of the twenty possess one or more straight Scotch crosses.

Among the two year olds we find nine which have records of over 300 lbs. of butterfat. One of these heifers is straight Scotch, and another one is nearly straight Scotch. Three out of the nine are by straight Scotch bulls, and the remaining six are by Scotch topped bulls. Eight out of the nine have one or more straight Scotch crosses in their pedigree.

The fact that these large producing females carry so much Scotch blood should be encouraging to those breeders of dual purpose Shorthorns who are anxious to retain beef with milk production.—G. E. Day, Sec. D. S.B.A.

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the scorching is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers. It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

Armistice Terms For Holland

Must Consume Imports from Germany to Raw Materials

The Hague. — Although in formulating the armistice terms, the associated powers reserved to themselves the right to seize all neutral ships trading with Germany, they do not, it is stated, propose to place any impediments in the way of Dutch ships engaged in such traffic, subject to the approval of the inter-allied commission at The Hague. Holland must, however, limit her exports to home products, in accordance with the agreement entered into between the associated governments and herself, and confine her imports from Germany to certain raw materials, such as coal, coke, and salt.

Large Shorthorn Herd

Calgary, Alta. — Stirling district boasts that the herd of imported Shorthorns owned by A. M. Steed, is the largest in the Dominion. There are over 200 head in the herd. Neil McKinnon, who has been with the provincial government for seven years, has accepted a position with Mr. Steed to look after his pure breeds and will fit them for the big fairs this summer.

HAD WEAK and FAINTING SPELLS

Those feelings of faintness, those weak, "all gone" sinking sensations, which come over some people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They mean an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered nervous system. When the system is in this condition there is no time for delay. One fainting spell may be recovered from—will the next? One dizzy spell may pass off, but the next may be more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, before their case becomes deep rooted and perhaps hopeless.

They will act directly on the disordered heart and weakened nervous system and restore them to full strength and vigor. Miss Mary McCoy, Algoma Mills, Ont., writes:—"I was awfully troubled with fainting and weak spells, and I could never get any doctor's medicines to help me. One day a friend of mine was at the house when I took one of those spells, and she got me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. That was six years ago, and from that day to this I have never had any of those spells. I would not be without your pills for any money, and can highly recommend them to any one."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Settlers Coming from U.S.

Winnipeg.—De Witt Foster, who is manager of the natural resources department of the Canadian National Railways in Chicago, visiting Winnipeg, said that there are a hundred thousand farm people in the territory tributary to Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha who are now planning to make rural Canada their future home, and who have their eyes fastened on the prairie provinces.

A Cure for Rheumatism.—A painful and persistent form of rheumatism is caused by impurities in the blood, the result of defective action of the liver and kidneys. The blood becomes tainted by the introduction of uric acid, which causes much pain in the tissues and in the joints. Parmer's Vegetable Pills are known to have effected many remarkable cures, and their use is strongly recommended. A trial of them will convince anyone of their value.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR APRIL 13—CHRIST OUR SAVIOR

1. Who Jesus Is (John 1:35-51). It is absolutely indispensable that every pupil regardless of age should know clearly who Jesus is and what he came into the world for. It should be the ardent desire of every teacher to make so clear the person and work of Christ that the pupils may accept him as their Saviour. Nothing short of his deity and vicarious atonement will avail for salvation. What he is set forth to be is through personal testimony. For the most part that which he was found to be is through personal investigation.

1. The Lamb of God (v. 36). John testified that he is the Lamb of God—the world's sin bearer. The word used and the idea conveyed carry us back to Isaiah 53 and forward to Jesus on the cross, bearing our sins in his own body. Christ had been definitely pointed out to John by the Holy Spirit (v. 33, 34).

2. The Messiah (v. 41). At the invitation of Jesus, the disciples went and abode with him for a day. As a result of that day with Jesus they testified that he is the Messiah. He is that one whom God had anointed to be the Saviour of men.

3. The Son of God (v. 49). Nathanael was interested through the testimony of a friend. Philip told him that he had found Jesus of Nazareth, of whom Moses had written. He knew that Nazareth was not the birthplace of the Messiah, therefore he inquired: "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" At the invitation of Philip he made a personal investigation. As a result he testified that Jesus was the Son of God, the King of Israel.

4. The Son of Man (v. 51). This is Christ's own testimony. It shows that he is the Messiah who, according to Daniel's prediction (Dan. 7:13) would appear in divine glory and establish a universal and eternal kingdom. In this testimony of Jesus is foreshadowed the union of man and God, and through him the establishment of a medium of communication between earth and heaven. This is the reality of Jacob's vision at Bethel (Gen. 28:12).

2. His Mission in the World (Matt. 20:27, 28; John 3:16).

He came to give his life a ransom for many. The world was lost in sin—about to perish. Christ voluntarily gave his life—died instead of the sinner.

1. The world is dying like the Israelites, because bitten by the serpent of sin.

2. Christ, like the brazen serpent, has been lifted up upon the cross as the remedy for sin (John 3:14, 15).

3. As the Israelites must look up to the uplifted serpent, so those who would be saved must believe on Jesus Christ (John 3:16). While looking by faith to the crucified Christ saves from the death-sting of the serpent, a neglect or refusal to believe on him means to perish.

4. This provision was made by God. It emanated from his love (John 3:16). "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son."

3. What He Gives (Rom. 8:31, 32). God gave his Son to save a dying world. Those who accept his Son have God on their side. He that spared his Son will freely give all things to those who receive him. He even makes all things work together for good to them who love him (Rom. 8:28).

No Rest With Asthma. Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when rest is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved its merit through years of service. A trial will convince you.

Lumber Trade Active

Vancouver, B. C. — The lumber trade to Australia is showing a tendency to get back to the normal traffic of pre-war times, and it is expected will exceed the demand of those days. The initial cargoes this year are being carried by three steamers handled by the Canadian-Australasian royal mail line. It is believed an active demand for lumber from this province will soon arise in New Zealand also.

Britain Would Secure A Permanent Peace

London. — A full dress debate on the question of the proceedings of the peace conference, in regard to the payment of indemnities, took place recently. A number of members expressed apprehension that Germany might succeed in her efforts to avoid payment in full.

It was pointed out that Germany might be bankrupt now, but that the development of her resources would enable her to pay. Furthermore, it was not the business of the delegates at Paris to say what Germany could pay. Their affair was to present the bill; it was Germany's business to find ways and means of meeting her obligations.

Andrew Bonar Law, replying, did not think that there was any foundation for the statement that Lenin's government had offered certain terms of peace. Neither he nor the prime minister knew anything about it. In regard to indemnities, Mr. Bonar Law stated that the government still intended to get from Germany whatever amount could be got from her. In this connection, they had not been influenced by President Wilson. Looking at the whole problem of the war, Britain's aim was to secure peace now and hereafter.

Unless, as a result of the war, the closest possible understanding eventuated, not only with France, with whom we had been all the time on good terms, but also with the United States, with whom there had been a lot of misunderstanding, a great deal would have been lost. The government recognized the greater suffering of some of our allies and desired to be fair to them, but in connection with reparation, the government must be just to the empire as regards the disposal of money. Up to recently the reparation commission had taken no decision as regards the amount of the claim. It was only fair to assume that our representatives in Paris were as keen as the house to get the largest possible amount and that on the question of examination from that standpoint, this argument was equally applicable to the allies.

He hoped that whatever was done, would be done by all the associated powers, but Franco-British interests were more direct than United States.

Will Not Operate Coal Mines

Paris. — The plan to solve the question of the Saar Basin by giving France the right to operate the coal mines under a form of a supplementary mortgage with the possibility that the territory would be administered through a mandate from the league of nations, is criticized by some French newspapers.

The Excelsior points out that this solution would result in complicated agreements similar to that concerning Morocco. It says it was understood that this plan had been definitely abandoned.

Reds Not Proposing Peace

London. — Alluding to the reports that Lenin's Bolshevik government had made proposals of peace through American channels, Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, said in the house of commons that he believed there was no shadow of foundation for such reports. Neither he nor the premier, with whom he had communicated, had heard a word about the matter.

Gen. Byng Not Leaving Army. London. — Although Gen. Byng has declined the Salisbury command, it is understood he is not quitting the army entirely, as has been stated.

Britain Will Exact Utmost Farthing

London. — In the house of commons, the government was subject to a great deal of criticism concerning the amount of indemnity which Germany is to be asked to pay.

Col. Lowther, Unionist, declared that the delegates to the peace conference in Paris needed to be reminded that a majority of the members of the house of commons solemnly had pledged themselves to exact the utmost farthing from the Germans. He said he hoped Great Britain was not trusting to the United States and bowing before President Wilson, who could philosophically

Stated as Probable Outcome of the Present Situation

Ottawa. — That acquisition by the government of the Grand Trunk railway will probably be the outcome of the present railway situation, was a statement made by Sir Thomas White when the bill confirming the appointment of a receiver for the Grand Trunk Pacific was being considered in committee.

Sir Thomas said he could not make this statement definitely, and suggested as possible alternatives that the government might resort to suit or foreclosure.

There was some criticism of the action of the government by Major Thos. A. Vico, Lethbridge, who regretted that an order in council appointing a receiver had been passed before the government had declared its railway policy.

R. L. Richardson, Springfield, declared that there appeared to be a conspiracy on the part of certain newspapers to help the Grand Trunk, and resented the suggestion that the Grand Trunk company should be treated with generosity. There was nothing left but public ownership, he said.

Sir Thomas White, in the course of further remarks, explained that, under the receivership, the government will not pay interest guaranteed by any of the provinces. The government would only pay enough to operate the system. Sir Thomas denied that the action of the government in regard to the Grand Trunk would hurt the credit of Canada in London.

Speaking at a late hour, Hon. Arthur Meighen stated that no step had been taken by the government which constituted unfair treatment. There had been, he said, a fair offer of arbitration, with no final limit fixed as was done in the case of the Canadian Northern.

Hungarian Nobles Search for Work

Baron Hatwang Now a Clerk in Private Business

Berlin. — Reports from Budapest declare that the people are fleeing in increasing numbers from that territory. One hundred and forty prominent political figures have been arrested, including Joseph Szeprenyi, former minister of commerce, and Count George Karolyi, both of whom are in danger of being sentenced to death.

Baron Hatwang, a millionaire owner of a newspaper, is now a clerk in a private business, and other members of the nobility whose property has been confiscated, are searching for work.

May Have Summer Fair

Moose Jaw. — If the citizens and business men of the city are interested enough to get behind the project, it is probable that a summer fair will be held this year, the probable dates being August 5 to 8. Strong committees have been appointed by the Moose Jaw agricultural society to make a canvass of the city and district to ascertain the prospects.

Golf Links on Vimy Ridge

Winnipeg, Man. — The Canadians have laid out a nine-hole golf course on Vimy Ridge, the capture of which by the soldiers of the Dominion was one of the achievements of the war. The news comes in a letter from an officer in France. It is stated President Wilson will be invited to play on the historic links.

The Case of Captain Fryatt

German Investigation of Execution of British Sea Captain Leads to Usual Excuses

Berlin. — At a continuation of the investigation into the execution of the British mercantile marine captain, Charles Fryatt, by the Germans in 1916, Prof. Shuecking, a member of the investigating commission, explaining the grounds on which the verdict of death was based, declared there was no obligation under international law to grant the request of the American embassy to appoint a defender for Captain Fryatt. The foreign office, Prof. Shuecking said, made endeavors in this direction, but various circumstances rendered such action impossible.

He argued that there was in existence a principle of war usage, making a private person assailing a part of a belligerent force liable to the death penalty for war treason.

The commission investigating the execution of Captain Charles Fryatt by the Germans in 1916, has decided that the shooting of the captain did not violate international law. The committee, however, expressed regret at the rapidity with which the sentence was carried out, according to advices received here from Berlin, where the investigation was held.

Invalids From Siberia

Vancouver. — The C.P.R. steamship Empress of Japan is expected to arrive April 9 from the Orient, carrying a number of invalid soldiers and officers from Siberia. According to information received here the Japan has 700 men and six officers on board.

The Yellow Peril

Captain Martin Smith Says Japanese Will Not Tolerate Discrimination

Ottawa. — "We have finished the fight over yonder, but this has not by any means settled the world problem," asserted Captain Martin-Smith of Vancouver, who is stopping in Ottawa for a few days on his way home. "Canada has to face, as she never has before, the yellow peril," he continued. "The Japanese is a high spirited man and if discriminated against, he feels slighted."

Captain Smith held out fears that the world may yet be in the throes of a death struggle when the white and yellow races, comprising the Japanese, Chinese and possibly other oriental nations, clash for world supremacy.

Stuttgart in State of Siege

Street Traffic Forbidden After Nine O'clock at Night

Stuttgart, Germany. — The government has proclaimed a state of siege in the city of Stuttgart, and its environs. All shops, theatres and public places must close from eight in the evening until 9 o'clock in the morning and all street traffic is forbidden after 9 o'clock at night. The counter strike which was called as a protest against the general walk out of workmen has been joined by tradesmen, merchants, manufacturers, state and municipal officials, doctors, and chemists. No local papers are issued and postal and tram car services have been suspended.

Will Stop Food Supplies

If Germany Refuses to Accept Allied Peace Terms

Paris. — The question is being widely asked as to what will happen if Germany refuses to accept the allied peace terms. Up to the present there has been no general disposition to resume hostilities. Moreover, the Germans themselves, even if they refused to agree to the peace terms, would probably merely resist passively the allied forces. The means of action would then be two: First, the allies would resume the blockade and then if this failed to bring the Germans to their senses they would occupy the Ruhr basin which is just a step beyond the Rhine. This basin contains most of Germany's coal and many of her most important industries. It is believed that under this pressure Germany could no longer resist.

Trade Re-opened With New Republic

Washington. — Resumption of trade and communication with German-Austria was authorized in an order issued by the war trade board, acting in accordance with an agreement reached by the associated nations. The only restrictions upon imports into German-Austria will be on all commodities of a military nature.

The re-opening of trade with German-Austria constitutes the first direct trade relations to be resumed by this country with any enemy state.

Farm Work Started

Lethbridge. — Farming is general in many parts of Southern Alberta. Seeding will begin next week.

Allied Forces in Danger in Russia

No Settlers Along Hudson Bay

Ottawa. — "I don't think anybody goes in there voluntarily with the exception of the missionaries," remarked Sergeant E. H. L. Thompson, of the R.N.W.M.P., when asked by Senator George W. Fowler at a meeting of the special committee, on the navigability and fisheries of the Hudson Bay. Sergeant Thompson was referring particularly to the country along the line of the Hudson Bay railway. He said there were gardens along the line in which potatoes and other vegetables were grown. However, there were no settlers. The growers of these gardens were, for the most part, employees of the railway.

In the country north of The Pas, he said, there was great excitement over finds of copper, gold and nickel.

Rumanians Fear Invasion

Berlin. — The Rumanian armies, in co-operation with the French forces at Arad, Hungary, 145 miles south-east of Budapest, have received orders to occupy the new line of demarcation as fixed by the Paris peace conference, according to an announcement issued by the Rumanian press bureau.

The allied armies have been received enthusiastically by the various populations who are living in constant fear of a Bolshevik invasion.

Restoring Order in Egypt

London. — Gen. Allenby, who is now in charge of the situation in Egypt, where disorders have been occurring, reported that order had been restored in Cairo and Bellal, it was announced in the house of commons by Cecil Harmsworth, under-secretary for foreign affairs. Twelve military columns are in operation in upper and lower Egypt, the general's report added, and the complete restoration of law and order was only a matter of time, the under-secretary declared.

Situation Looks Grave

Berlin. — The general strike declared in the Rhineland by the soviets is regarded as a possible beginning of a new campaign to overthrow the present government. Its full extent will not be certain before it actually gets under way.

Among the demands being made by the soviets are: Disarmament of all troops, arming of the proletariat, freedom for all political prisoners, and immediate close relations with the Bolsheviks in Hungary and Russia.

Spending Millions for Houses

Adelaide. — Premier Peake, of South Australia, in the course of a statement on the government's reparation activities, showed that the state had already spent £3,000 sterling in trying to make up the difference in salaries of enlisted government servants and £600,000 sterling had been advanced to provide homes for returned soldiers' widows. He estimated another million and a half would be required and expected two and a half millions would be advanced for land settlement.

Flax Colony in Africa

London. — Replying to a question in the house, Sir R. S. Horne, minister of labor, stated that the government was obtaining expert advice in regard to the possibilities of the success of a scheme for forming a colony of ex-members of the military and naval services to develop flax growing in British East Africa, which would involve a considerable money grant by the state.

Bolsheviki Propaganda Spreads in Germany

London. — Describing the outlook in Germany, the Berlin correspondent of the Mail says the crisis which is rapidly approaching seems certain to be graver than either the January or March outbreaks.

"One of the storm centres is Bavaria, especially Munich," he writes. "The situation in southern Germany has completely changed during the last three weeks. Thousands of people, including many women, attend mass meetings at which unadulterated Bolshevism is advocated and de-

London. — The serious situation in the Murmansk region, and the attempt by the Bolsheviks to drive the allied forces on the Archangel front into the sea are the cause of much anxiety here.

Sir Ernest Shackleton, the explorer, who has just returned from Russia, where he superintended the winter outfitting and feeding of the expedition, confirmed the danger to the allied position and armies. He is credited with stirring British officials into a keener realization of the seriousness of the position in Russia.

Sir Ernest Shackleton is director of equipment and transport of the northern Russian expeditionary forces and has visited points from Murmansk and Archangel. He declared in an interview that both fronts are in danger, and that the Bolshevik peril is a very real one, because the entente forces are outnumbered by disciplined and well armed and equipped troops in close touch with the allies' extended but by no means strong front.

The northern Caucasus from the Black sea to the Caspian sea, has been entirely cleared of the Bolsheviks as the result of the successful campaign of the army of Gen. Denekine in that region in January and February, according to an official report issued here.

The anti-Bolshevik leaders, fighting having ceased, are forming new forces of Cossacks and other natives. The report says that the capture of Vladikavkaz on January 28, by troops under Gen. Skuro, completed the campaign against the Bolsheviks, in which 50,000 prisoners, more than 2,000 guns, 350 machine guns, 100 locomotives and thousands of railway cars were taken.

A report from Odessa on February 13, said that the army of Gen. Denekine had scattered a Bolshevik army of 100,000 men, of whom more than 31,000 were made prisoners.

Failure of the offensive in the direction of Tukum, in Courland, west of Riga, is admitted by the Russian Soviet government, in a wireless message received here.

The message adds that fighting is in progress in the direction of Mitau, southwest of Riga, and in the region of Pskov, northeast of Riga.

For Free Homesteads

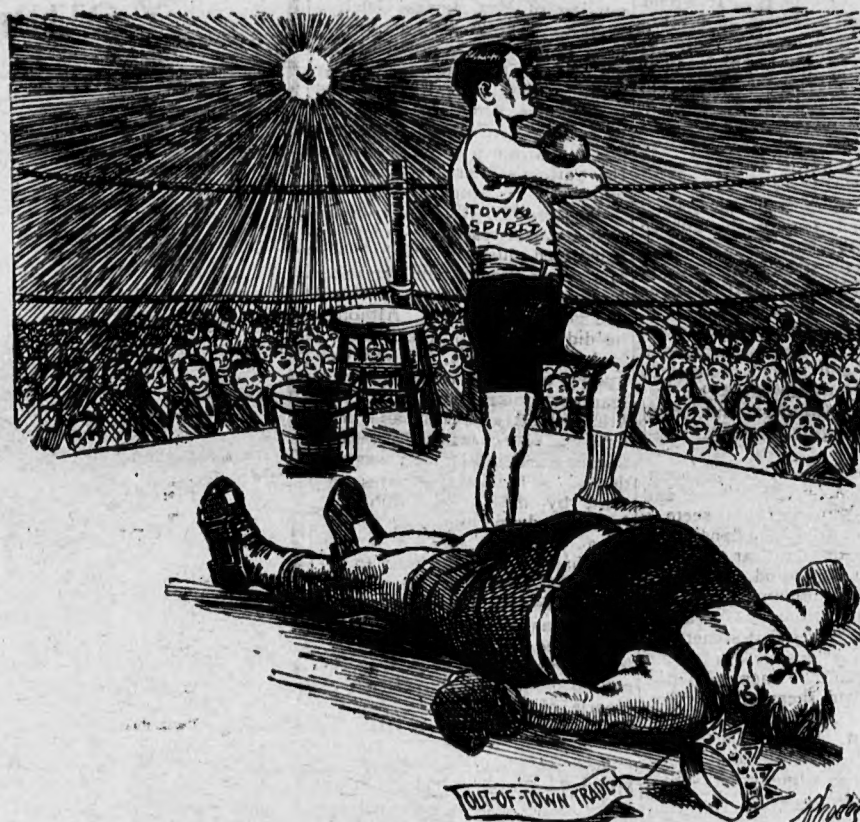

Western M. P.'s are Against Abandoning of Policy Now

Ottawa. — Government supporters from the provinces west of the great lakes were in caucus with Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior, in regard to the question of western homesteads and the grazing leases. At a caucus held a week ago, the suggestion was made that the government should abandon the policy of granting free homesteads in western Canada. There was great diversity of opinion in regard to this proposal. At a recent gathering, it was apparent that the consensus of opinion was adverse to a change in what has been the government policy for many years past.

There was considerable discussion as to the proper policy to be adopted in respect of grazing land and the suggestion was made that in the future leases should be for a ten year period with the privilege given to the party holding a lease to drop it at the end of three years after giving notice. It was proposed that the rental of leased land should be increased from two to five, or seven cents per acre.

Made Admirals of the Fleet

London. — The King has approved the promotion of Admiral Viscount John Jellicoe and Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty to be "Admirals of the Fleet," in recognition of their distinguished war service.

THE KNOCK-OUT

How many rounds before the knock out? That knock out blow, when "Mr. Out-of-Town Trade" gets his final "wallop" from home interests. Are we in training for it? Here is a fight in which the interests of the entire country are one. Is it all of us—you and me and our children and our neighbors, our town and our neighboring towns—against this one evil. Our champion is ourselves—all of us, welded together into one co-operative whole. Will our man win, And when? It all depends on us. If we think as one man, act as one man, trade at home as one man, then we are in good training for that final knock out. In reality we are not at the ring side. We are in the fight. In this picture you see ourselves, arrayed as Home interests, triumphant.

Reports Not Correct

Allies Financial Demands Not Yet Made Public

Paris. — An official note issued says the press has published certain information on the peace negotiations, which is entirely erroneous.

"The Temps, commenting on this says: 'The above contradiction constitutes the sole official information supplied to the French press with regard to the important deliberations of the heads of the allied governments.'"

Probe Into Fryatt's Death

Berlin. — An investigation was begun before an imperial military court into the case of Captain Chas. Fryatt, the British mercantile marine commander who was executed by the Germans in 1916, after his conviction by a German court martial of having attempted to ram a submarine with his vessel, the Great Eastern Railway steamer Brussels. A large number of witnesses appeared for examination.

U.S. Will Not Buy British Tonnage. New York. — The U.S. government has withdrawn its proposal to purchase the British owned tonnage of the International Mercantile Marine.

Did Not See Kaiser

Report of Interview by Begbie Has Been Denied

London. — The articles in the London Chronicle by Harold Begbie, describing his visit to Amerongen, quoting the former German kaiser's alleged state of mind, charging Russia with responsibility for the war and asserting his innocence of any guilt, have attracted wide attention. The London bureau of the Associated Press received the following telegram:

"Amerongen. 'Harold Begbie has not had an interview with the former emperor. His written questions remain unanswered. He did not receive any authorization to publish the emperor's views, and no statement was given to him. He never saw the emperor; neither did he enter the castle gates. (Signed) 'Carlos Bentinck.'"

Cottin's Appeal Is Rejected

Paris. — The appeal from the death sentence of Emile Cottin, the assassin of Premier Clemenceau, has been rejected by the revisionary court martial. An appeal to the court of session is still open to Cottin.

Editor, Gleichen Call.

Sir,—As the people in this district are collecting money to build a memorial to the memory of the men who have fallen, who have sacrificed their lives that we might live and enjoy freedom, I would beg leave to suggest a library, as it would be a benefit to old and young, rich and poor. A tablet could be placed on the wall containing the names of our fallen heroes, also the names of those who have returned to us, and to whom we owe a debt of gratitude. Men hauling grain from the country to town could have a quiet place to sit and read the daily newspapers, men from the stores, banks or other occupations, would have a place to spend the evening, where no gambling would be permitted.

Ladies, too, would be able to take advantage of the many benefits derived from having a public library in their midst. It would also furnish a rest room for the farmer's wives coming to town. There are lots which have come into the possession of the town for unpaid taxes. One of these could be given for the purpose, and as the town owns the electric light and water they could supply the library free of cost and the members could pay a small annual fee for the upkeep of the library.

The former site of the Beupre store would be an ideal place, as it is central. There are several lots, a good well, and a few trees which would then be protected and stand a living monument to the old lady who planted the first tree seeds in Gleichen, and would also be a beginning for a small park.

I believe someone has suggested a building for a pool table and dancing. Would it not seem a sacrilege that we were dancing on the graves of our dear departed dead? To my mind, and there are many in the community who feel the same, it is not dignified enough. We feel that something of a more serious nature should commemorate the men who had to put behind them all frivolity, and stand ready to face death at any moment. It was said to have "caused us to find our soul," then let us at this time erect something that is going to prove of value for eternity.

Dancing and pool playing would only meet the wishes of part of the community. Such a place would not benefit school children, nor those who have passed the noon of life. I have often thought what a useless waste of money, to place a wreath of flowers on a grave. If the same amount of money was paid for a book and placed in a library to the memory of a friend, the book would live for many years after the flowers were dead.

Colridge says: Why are not more gems from our great author scattered over the country? Great books are not in everybody's reach; it is a good work to give a little to those who have neither time nor money to get more.

Let us see to it that what we decide to do at this time may be something that will be a blessing and an inspiration to old and young, and bear rich fruit for eternity, long after we have passed to the great beyond from which no traveller returns.
(MRS.) J. FINNIGAN.

IN MEMORIAM

(Communicated)

The Queenstown farming district has once again been called upon to mourn the loss of one of its homestead residents in the death of John Williams, of Milo, who passed quietly away about midnight on a March 30.

The deceased was born in Cornwall, England, on the 23rd of February in the year 1849, and continued in residence there until 1876. In that year he felt the call of America for pioneer settle-ers and responded, bringing with him his wife and small family, he having married four years previously. Coming to this continent he settled in Forest Grove, Oregon, opening up a butcher business there, and, later carrying on farming operation close to town.

In the year 1907 he crossed the border looking for land and was so favorably impressed with the opportunities here offered for progressive farming that he took up a homestead and commenced permanent residence in 1908. Since that year he has been a respected member of the local neighborhood and has won to himself a large following of friends throughout the entire countryside.

The week previous to his illness he spent in Calgary and returned home in apparently perfect health. During the week a cold developed and gained such headway that by Saturday he was compelled to remain indoors. The cold seemed to congest on his chest and only the competent nursing of Mrs. James Osler, a neighbor, who kindly gave of her time unstintingly, ward off an attack of pneumonia. Everything that medical skill and family love could do was done to conquer the sickness, but the physical strain was too severe for the patient's heart and he slept quietly away Sunday night.

The late Mr. Williams was one of our oldest residents, he having completed his seventieth year. His many friends will remember him as a man sociably inclined and good of company. Although he did not take part extensively in local social life, he was well known and was respected as a man possessing practical ideals of brotherhood, sympathy and helpfulness. His claim to the estimation of the neighborhood was evidenced by the floral tributes present, by the large number of friends and neighbors that gathered at his home for the service, and that followed the body to the Municipal cemetery to witness the last rites at the grave-side.

He was pre-deceased by his wife three years and one month, but he leaves six sons and daughters to mourn his loss, Mrs. Geo. Hoerle, of Saskatchewan; Mrs. J. Burk, of Milo, and Messrs. Thomas and William, of Oregon; Henry, of Idaho, and Steve, of Milo. To these the deepest sympathy of friends and neighbors is extended in this, their hour of trial. To the neighbors and friends who rallied to their assistance in the hour of need, these beloved ones wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation for their thoughtfulness and help.

April 14 and 15—"Canada at Mons" and "Loaded Dice" at the Opera House.

At a recent meeting of the executive of the Alberta Educational Association it was decided to postpone the annual convention until April, 1920. The loss of time on account of the influenza epidemic, and the increased railway rates in force, were among the reasons which led to this decision.

Racial Question and League of Nations

Paris. — William Hughes, premier of Australia, made the flat statement to the Associated Press that he was unalterably in opposition to the proposed racial equality amendment to the covenant of the league of nations or to any form of it, however mild in recognizing that principle.

The American amendment concerning the Munro Doctrine and the Japanese racial amendments were not included in the covenant of the league of nations as sent to the drafting committee. The amendments may be offered later at a plenary session of the peace council or before the council of ten.

The Japanese delegation to the peace conference continued to press for an amendment to the covenant of the league which would go as far as the conference was willing to concede toward the promulgation of the principle of the equality of races. The original Japanese proposal, which met with speedy rejection, has been modified by them several times until as it stands today, it calls for "recognition of the equality of nations and just treatment of all their nationals." It was generally understood that several of the leading delegations, including the United States mission and the majority of the British, were inclined to believe there was nothing objectionable to an amendment thus framed.

"Australia," said Premier Hughes, "cannot accept this proposal which strikes at the very root of the policy that we have maintained so long, which is vital to our existence and which we have guarded as zealously as has America her Monroe Doctrine."

"I am anxious to avoid anything likely to hurt the susceptibilities of the people of other nations, but on this point, since we cannot give way, it is best that I should speak plainly. We cannot agree to the insertion of any words in the covenant or in the treaty of peace, that would impair or even question our sovereign rights in regard to any and every aspect of this question."

"One of the principles of the league is that there shall be no interference in the international affairs of any nation. No nation will surrender its sovereignty in matters essential to its welfare to enter the league."

"I cannot but regard the proposed amendment as an effort to establish a position in which ultimately some nations would find their internal policy challenged by the league at the instigation of one of its members. The amendment, no matter how innocuous it may seem in form, is certainly aimed at giving the league control of questions relating to immigration, naturalization and matters which cannot be surrendered by any state without such impairment of its sovereignty as to make it, in effect, a subject state."

"If the league is able to compel a state to amend its immigration, naturalization and franchise laws, there remains to the state only the shadow of sovereignty. The substance has gone. No free nation could agree to dictation in such a matter from the league of nations. Intimate problems belong to and must remain under the control of the individual nation."

London. — Replying to Brigadier-General Croft in the house of commons, Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law said that no agreement will be entered into at Paris which would interfere with the full control of the United Kingdom or the dominions over their own customs duties.

Paving the Way For Permanent Peace

London. — The Paris correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says on high authority that "in order to avoid perils which would inevitably arise if preliminary peace terms are not drafted until such time as the various commissions shall have finished their labors, and have presented their respective reports, the representatives of the great powers have drawn up certain proposals which seem ample to constitute the basis of the first treaty, or one analogous to that signed at Versailles in 1871."

The correspondent adds that these proposals are under the consideration of the "inner council of four," Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando and President Wilson, which has temporarily superseded the council of ten, and that this arrangement will greatly expedite decisions.

"A final settlement will not be aimed at," continues the correspondent, "but the terms will be sufficiently firm, drastic and definite to provide for an enduring peace, justify in large measure early demobilization, simplify the grave international food problem and pave the way for speedy industrial reconstruction and financial reorganization."

"The principal aims of the proposals now before the inner council are:

1. To ensure ample securities for the future protection of France, especially on her eastern frontier;
2. To establish a strong Italy, with a formidable northern barrier against aggression;
3. To create a strong Poland;
4. To found a league of nations pledged on material as well as moral grounds, to the preservation of world peace."

Defeat Daylight Saving Bill

Resolution Defeated in Commons by a Vote of 105 to 50

Ottawa. — A resolution in favor of the re-enactment of the daylight saving bill this year was defeated in the commons, the vote against it being 105 to 50. The resolution was moved by Major R. C. Cooper, Vancouver South, a Unionist member, and seconded by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux.

The debate occupied the entire sitting and it was evident from the beginning, that the opponents of the resolution were in the majority. The rural representatives of Ontario and the public provinces were a unit in their opposition, while the urban representatives of the east, along with practically a solid British Columbia and a majority of the Quebec members, both rural and urban, favored the re-enactment of the legislation of last year. The maritime province vote was split. Only seven members from Ontario favored daylight saving.

Bessarabia New Republic

Has Ordered Military Operations Against Rumanian Army

London. — A republic has been proclaimed in Bessarabia and its directorate has ordered military operations against the Rumanian army, a part of which has been forced to fall back, according to a Warsaw dispatch to the Telegraph. It is stated that the movement is evidently engineered by Bolsheviks supported by Ukrainians, who seek to break through Rumania to establish contact between Moscow and Budapest.

Bessarabia, under the old regime in Russia, a province lying along the northeastern frontier of Rumania. It is bounded on the west by the Pruth river and on the east and north by the Dniester. On the southeast it is washed by the Black sea. It has an area of 17,614 square miles and had a population of 2,262,400. Rumania laid claim to Bessarabia after the collapse of the imperial regime in Russia and Russian troops have been occupying parts of the country.

Huns Held Danish Residents

Paris. — Germany is detaining Danish residents of Schleswig who desire to return home after having been released from Russian prisons, according to advices reaching the French foreign office. These men were among Germans taken prisoner by the Russians during the war and who, after being let go in Russia, attempted to return to Schleswig. They are, however, it is declared, being imprisoned in Germany and denied permission to go home.

Weather Supplied

Montreal. — The Marconi Wireless company has completed arrangements for supplying air-arms to aviators who may attempt to cross the Atlantic.

A complete series of bulletins about weather conditions over the area to be traversed will be compiled from advices to ships at sea and will be sent out from the company's Glace Bay station and picked up by the aviators.

French Post Abolished

Paris. — President Poincare, acting on Captain Andre Tardieu's suggestion, has signed a decree abolishing the post of French high commissioner at Washington on April 1.

British Strikers Resume Work

Railway Strike Resolution Was Rescinded and Miners Out are Returning

London. — The delegates to the conference of the National Union of Railwaymen have decided to accept the offer of the government for the settlement of their demands.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the union, said that the settlement was made subject to satisfaction being obtained on some points yet outstanding. The strike resolution was rescinded by the conference.

Thirty thousand South Wales miners have resumed work and the remainder of the strikers will fall in line.

Hun Liners Arrive in England

Leviathans of Atlantic Now Being Handed Over in Obedience to Allied Terms

Copenhagen. — The delivery of German merchant ships to the allies continues, despatches received here from Berlin says. Various vessels of the Hanza line sailed from Bremen and the North German Lloyd liners Zeppelin, 15,000 tons, Waldeck, 6,517 tons, and Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, 17,000 tons, sailed recently and were to be followed by the Meiningen. The North German Lloyd steamers Prinz Ludwig, 9,600 tons; Frankfurt, 7,400 tons; Altenburg, 7,000 tons and the new steamer Meissen, were to sail soon.

Other steamers of the North German Lloyd allotted to the allies are also preparing to sail soon.

Must Pay Own Way

Soldiers' Dependents Who Left Canada After Signing of Armistice Return at Own Expense

Ottawa. — Owing to the fact that a number of soldiers' dependents are leaving for England in the expectation of returning with their soldier relatives, the order in council in regard to expenses of repatriation has been amended. It now provides that no expenditure shall be incurred by the government in the repatriation of any soldiers' dependents who left Canada for the United Kingdom, France or Belgium, on or after November 11, 1918.

Those, therefore, who have left Canada for the United Kingdom since the signing of the armistice will have to return at their own expense.

HELP WANTED!

Keep away from the flame of the candle if you don't want your wings singed, is a proverb as old as the hills. So old we have almost forgotten to apply it to ourselves. In every community men and women are imitating the moths. How many times have we been singed by the fascination of that long distance "bargain"? And how many times have we come back, and back again, to the flame? How much money is lost each year to this community by this same singeing process? The flame of the candle mounts higher. The moths crowd closer and closer to the flame. It is our business to put that flame out. Wanted:—A few men and women in our community to apply the snuffer.

Opposed to Fixed Prices

Views of Hon. Crerar and the Government Seem to Harmonize

Ottawa. — Hon. Mr. Crerar, answering W. D. Cowan, of Regina, in the agricultural committee, said that in opposing a fixed price for wheat, he spoke only for himself and not for the government.

It is a habit that ministers have; only the premier speaks for the government. At the same time, those on the inside at Ottawa know that the sentiments of the government are those of Mr. Crerar. They have been talking about it since last fall and there has been so far no division of cabinet opinion against the proposal. Mr. Crerar broke the ice, but, voicing only his own views officially, he voiced, unofficially, the views of his colleagues.

Saskatchewan members will now throw the question into parliament, with a direct resolution calling for a fixed price. The outlook is not promising.

Dominion Troops Parade in London

London. — It is understood that Lord Milner, British secretary for the colonies, is giving his personal attention to the question of the ceremonial parade through London by the Dominion troops before their departure for home.

Many newspapers here are constantly expressing regret that the overseas soldiers are being allowed to depart practically without a send-off.

W. N. U. 1257

Report is Erroneous

Sir Robert Not Considering Position of Ambassador at Washington

Ottawa. — Sir Thomas White, in the commons stated that from time to time press despatches from abroad had associated erroneously the name of Sir Robert Borden with the position of British ambassador at Washington.

The matter had been brought to the attention of the prime minister, he said, and the following cable had been received from Sir Robert: "You are authorized to state publicly that I am not considering the position of British ambassador at Washington and it is my intention to return to Canada and resume my duties as prime minister as soon as my work with the conference will permit."

Serious Reverse for Reds

London. — Reuters learns in messages from Omsk, Russia, that General Klochak's army pierced the enemy's front on a thirty mile breadth on March 11, and advanced nearly forty miles along the right bank of the Kama river between the already captured towns of Okhansk and Ossa. The red army is being pursued in three directions, abandoning large quantities of war stores. A large number of men were taken prisoner and three Bolshevik regiments were annihilated. The enemy's situation is precarious.

Spirit of the Times

London. — The allegorical figure of Columbia, representing the United States, is to supplant that of Germania and clasp the hand of Britannia in the decoration of the British foreign office in Downing street.

Germany Must Accept Terms

Allies Expect to Be Bluffed Until Last Minute

Coblenz. — As the time for presenting the peace terms to Germany approaches the important question arises as to what attitude Germany will take. Is the present German government sufficiently stable to carry out the enforced terms of peace? Whether Germany will accept the terms regardless of their severity is not considered a question open to discussion. Germany will be obliged to accept though no one doubts but that she will haggle and bluff until the last minute just as she did in the armistice negotiations when Marshal Foch pulled out his watch and said: "Gentlemen, my train leaves in five minutes and if the agreement is not signed before that time the war will continue." It is expected that the same tactics will be followed when the peace terms are presented to the so-called central powers.

Ex-kaizer's Uneasiness

Geneva. — Former Emperor William of Germany, alarmed by the receipt of threatening letters intends to leave Holland and seek refuge in Switzerland according to the newspaper La Suisse. Swiss newspapers are printing many advertisements inserted by members of German and Austrian nobility seeking houses in this country at moderate prices.

Mons Welcomes Canadians

Paris. — The municipal council of Mons gave an official reception to General Loomis, officer commanding the Third Canadian Division, which formed part of the first army which liberated Mons on November 11.

The German Whine Over Peace Terms

Labrador's Coast Swept by Disease

Epidemic Raged Four Months, Wiping Out Whole Settlements

Montreal. — The Montreal Star publishes the following: "St. John's, Newfoundland, March 26.—By mail to Battle Harbor and wireless to this city, comes intelligence of shocking conditions in northern Labrador, as a result of influenza, smallpox and measles, which swept the coast during the winter. Earlier in the season reports of deaths on the southern section of the coast showed that over 25 per cent. of the natives died."

"From Gross Water Bay to Naine the epidemic raged for four months, carrying off approximately 50 per cent. of the inhabitants on that area of the coast. At Naine, 40 Newfoundlanders who wintered on the coast for trade purposes, died, and over 40 Esquimaux also died, which represents practically the whole population of that settlement. Okak, with a population of over 200, is entirely wiped out. At Hebron 200 died, leaving only a remnant of residents at that station to dispose of the bodies. At the latter place the survivors dug a pit, into which they threw them without shroud, coffin or burial rites, about 100 being disposed of in that manner. On the island in the vicinity of Okak, 15 people who resided there for sealing, died."

"Many outposts which are invariably connected with the central mail posts, failed to report, and the conclusion is that the whole population of these places have succumbed to the disease."

"It is estimated that only 400 inhabitants from Gross Water Bay to Naine are left alive. The full extent of the calamity will not be known until the opening of navigation in the coming summer, but well grounded fears are expressed that the diseases which ravaged the south and centre area of the Labrador coast extended north, and that the most appalling conditions will be disclosed when the ice barrier permits investigation. Medical aid was unobtainable, and the unfortunate stricken people perished, as if by the plague."

Hungary's Revolutionary Army

Will Be Armed and Fed at Expense of State

Basle. — The new Hungarian government has begun re-organization of a revolutionary army, to be recruited from the organized proletariat and the soldiers and workmen now mobilized. The chief of the Red army, reports received from Budapest say, is the advisor of the revolutionary government, but control of the conduct and organization of the army will be in the hands of the people's commissary for military affairs.

The soldiers will receive 450 crowns monthly and will be well equipped, armed and fed at the expense of the state. Two or more soldiers to the same family will get an extra allowance of fifty crowns a month, and those who have dependents will get extra pay of 300 crowns every six months.

The normal value of the Austrian crown before the war was 20.3 cents.

Food Scarce in Barcelona

Washington. — Advices from Madrid to the state department said conditions in that city were quiet, but that at Barcelona many arrests had been made by the military authorities because of refusal on the part of the civilians to obey orders. The army has commandeered private automobiles, many shops are closed, food is becoming scarce and great anxiety is felt in that city.

Welm. — Speaking in the national assembly, Phillip Schiedemann the German chancellor, said semi and non-official reports were increasing that fresh aggravations in the peace conditions are expected to be announced; that unprecedented sums in compensation are to be imposed; that wide stretches of purely German territory are to be taken and that crushing restrictions are to be imposed in financial and military matters.

"Assuredly a large part of these alleged conditions are invented," the chancellor continued, "so that by repetition, they will accustom us to these unheard of demands and the final conditions may seem almost bearable to us. They are invented in order to create an atmosphere which will suffocate protest even against a peace of violence. Our peoples, which were ill-treated by the armistice more cruelly than by the war, recognize this method. A cry, not of a Chauvinist nature, but of the deepest despair which appeals to the highest there is—to the conference of humanity—is going up throughout Germany."

Herr Scheidemann said the protests against the alleged conditions were due to patriotic fears. The government knew this loyalty to the empire was one of the most valuable possessions entrusted to its control and would not permit it to be entrenched upon at home or abroad. The chancellor appealed to the people to stand together, adding:

"The so-called radicals of the left have no right to protest against a period of oppression for we are responsible under the treaties of Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest."

Declaring that Great Britain had rejected a proposal to establish an international tribunal to investigate responsibility for the war, Herr Scheidemann said:

"Even if Germany were responsible for all the crimes she is accused of, has she thereby lost the right to protest against fetters which will throttle her?"

"Spa was worse than Brest-Litovsk because Spa shows that it learned nothing from Brest-Litovsk."

Hungary is Warned

Mere Socialistic Government Will Not Satisfy Autocrat of Red Russia

Copenhagen. — Premier Lenin, of the Russian Soviet government, has sent a wireless dispatch to Bela Kun, the Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, asking for guarantees that the new Hungarian government is really communistic and not merely socialistic. Lenin warns Kun against imitating "our Russian tactics in detail."

In his message, Lenin says: "Owing to the peculiar circumstances, I am quite certain it would be a mistake for the Hungarian revolution to imitate our Russian tactics in detail. I must warn you against this mistake."

Vote to Keep Rhine Territory

Meetings of Protest in Germany Against "Enslaving Peace"

Paris. — The Prussian national assembly has voted unanimously against the relinquishment by Germany of any of the Rhine territory, especially the Ruhr basin, according to German dispatches reaching here. The votes also tell of meetings of protest multiplying in all parts of Germany against what is called an "enslaving peace." According to the Zurich correspondent of the journal these manifestations are being organized by the government through Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the foreign secretary.

War Shows Financial Strength of Britain

Paris. — Persistent rumors that all Europe is on the verge of a financial collapse are not justified by the facts, a prominent United States financial expert, who has been engaged for many months in studying the problems facing the peace conference, said in a statement recently.

Conditions were serious, he added, but not panicky, and will doubtless be relieved greatly when peace is signed and the embargoes lifted. He predicted that England will be stronger within a year than ever before because of her unusual commercial enterprise and the courage with which she meets her debts by taxation.

Great Britain, with a war debt of $40,000,000,000, the financier added, is in a situation comparing favorably with her debt and per capita wealth at the conclusion of the Napoleonic wars. The allies owe Great Britain between $9,000,000,000 and $10,000,000,000. The financier stated that only about four billions of the twenty billions of dollars invested abroad by Englishmen before the war had been disposed of.

The Department of Agriculture at Edmonton purpose giving assistance in the organization, management and financing of School Fairs through the School of Agriculture at Claresholm. This notice has reference to the territory in Southern Alberta extending from the main line of the C.P.R. south to the boundary.

Briefly, the plan is that a committee of interested citizens shall be organized at the centre at which it is proposed to hold a fair, which committee will share with Departments of Agriculture and Education the work and expense of the fair. A group of from eight to twenty-five schools convenient to the centre will be selected. Garden seeds will be distributed through the committee to the pupils of these schools. The pupils will plant the seeds at home, care for the gardens during the summer and in the fall, exhibit samples of the products at a fair. Girls will receive receipts and instructions in connection with the sewing and cooking that they will exhibit at the fair. For further particulars apply to

Correspondence

Namaka, April 7, 1919.

Editor, Call:
In your last issue Mr. Glambeck seems greatly surprised that anyone should have taken his last letter seriously. I gladly welcome his assurance that he is not Bolshevist and that he has such a respect for Canadian Government. I certainly should not have guessed it from his first letter.

He suggests that if he were to visit Russia and return to Canada that even with his first-hand knowledge of affairs no one would believe him and wants the Bassano editor and me to accompany him so that we can verify his. When I visit Europe again I trust it will be for a pleasure trip and if Mr. Glambeck's conversation is anything like his letters I fear I should find him a tiresome travelling companion.

At the present time with numbers of soldiers returning from the front, Bolsheviki talking and writing is distinctly dangerous. After what our soldiers have been through they find it hard to settle down to steady work again. The man who helps a soldier to settle down to steady remunerative employment is a friend to the soldier and to his country, on the other hand, the man who by Bolsheviki or other socialist utterance, keeps a soldier in idleness, waiting for some turn in political affairs that will let him live without working, is a menace to the good government that Mr. Glambeck professes to admire.

Yours faithfully,
W. WILLIAM WINSPEAR.

Chancellor Items

The crop prospects are very favorable at present.

The U. F. A. local is growing steadily. Several new members having joined at the last meeting and more applications are coming in.

The Anzac colony held their last social and dance of the season on Friday evening in Chancellor, which proved a great success and gave enjoyment to a great many, thanks to the committee in charge. Between the dances we had some good songs and recitations, which caused great amusement. The children also had a good time. Owing to the limited room we were unable to invite a great many whom we would like to have present, but hope next season to have ample room for all. Mr. Duncan Dingwall as floor manager kept all going fast and furious, and the dancers said they never had better music or time than that furnished by Mr. J. Ball with his pull and push organ.

Farm wages at $75 a month is a reminder that we recently were at war.

Thos. Henderson has been duly appointed by the Alberta Government to issue auto plate licenses. There can be no kick now if the constable invites you to take a walk to see Mr. Henderson.

Fence your land. The Revelstoke Sawmill Co., Ltd., has an exceptionally fine stock of cedar fence posts and willows. Prices right. 4

One man who called in a country newspaper office recently was firm in his idea the editor was in the profiteering class because the price of the paper had been raised to $2 a year.

In looking up his subscription account it was found that when the price was $1 he had paid his subscription with eggs one year, and the editor was glad to offer him the paper for $1 again provided he brought in the same amount of eggs. In this case it was nine dozen. But he refused and preferred to pay the $1.

In looking over the books of the "good old days," it was found another man had presented a case of honey for two years' credit; another a dressed turkey, in lieu of the dollar. To anyone who made such exchanges in the past, the editor is more than willing to duplicate the offer on the same basis.

The Outstanding Product of a Large Manufacturing House

FOUR large factories and five distributing warehouses stand back of Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead.

Every step in its manufacture is closely watched by chemical engineers—nothing is left undone which would help to maintain the quality of the world's finest white lead.

Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead

is different from any other white lead. To begin with, it is corroded by several secret processes which are then merged into a pigment of marvellous smoothness. This pigment is ground no less than five times, first under huge stones, and finally between heavy steel rolls. In this grinding process, it is made into a pulp by being mixed with pure refined linseed oil made in our own linseed oil mills.

Whenever you paint, use Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead if you mix your own paint. If you want to save the labor of mixing you can ensure the use of this quality pigment only by getting B-H "English" Paint.

"You are going to shoot Morgan? I see you've got what Americans call a gun," said the budding Sherlock, pointing to a bulge of ominous shape in Tony's breast pocket.

Tony laughed a tolerant laugh. "No," he replied, rearranging his handkerchief so as to hide the bulge, "I am not contemplating murder, Tom. It is bad enough to be suspected of it without doing it. But what's this about stopping the wedding? If I wanted to there would be plenty of time ahead of me, eh?"

"It's for today at noon," the boy groaned. "God knows what's become of Mr. Kenyon. That man would have stopped it!" he went on in a tone of gloomy comparison. "I haven't been working with him for nothing. He promised to come back in time. Now he can't, unless he came in the same train you came by. He didn't, eh? Well, they've been trying to keep it dark, but I know that Mr. Clegg has had notice to marry Miss Conlyn to Morgan at twelve o'clock to-day by special license."

Sir Anthony West's appetite, luckily half appeased, petered out altogether. Laying down his knife and fork, he demanded a complete history of Tom's implication in the case and of Kenyon's doings—of everything in short that had been happening during his absence from the village. Nothing loth, the boy set to work to enlighten him, with the result that at the conclusion he knew nearly as much as the reader knows of recent occurrences at Conlyn. There was, of course, omissions, such as the purchase of the cyanide, which took place after Kenyon last saw his ardent young colleague, and the rather delicate relations between Kenyon and Laura Gaspard. But on the whole Tony was put fairly "wise" to the situation.

What impressed him most was the motive disclosed for Morgan's actions—the ultimate acquisition by marriage with Mavis Conlyn of the radium mine rights.

"By George, my lad, but it looks as if you and my old chum had been making it hot for the gentleman at the Court," he exclaimed. "It's about time I took a hand myself. Looks as if the worthy Jasper had a direct interest in his first wife's death, and that I have been made a cat's paw."

"That is what Mr. Kenyon and I both thought," said the youngster in his disagreeable burly manner.

"And that Morgan killed his wife?" snapped Tony.

"That has been pretty obvious to me all along," replied the boy wistfully. "When Mr. Kenyon turned up and agreed with me I was quite sure of it. The trouble is, he says, that we haven't got evidence to hang a dog on, and he ought to know. He went to London to find it, but as he hasn't come back I expect he's done no good. Anyhow, he's too late to stop the wedding now."

With which the boy drained his neglected tea cup, as though the last word had been spoken.

Sir Anthony resumed his breakfast and finished in silence. Then he

"Maybe you're wishful to speak to him about this foul wrong he's got to do our Miss Mavis up to the church presently," she added, with a shrewd glance at the young baronet's face.

"That's about the size of it," rejoined Tony. "I am not very well acquainted with the chap, but he's a good sort, isn't he, Mrs. Trevoise?"

"If fighting your battles makes him one he's all that," declared the curate's second mother, as she was wont to call herself. "He and his father, too! Rich that, when his father was gathered to his fathers ten years and more ago."

From which Tony gathered that the sisters had been comparing notes upon the industries of "Mr. Clegg, Senior," otherwise Clayton Clegg. There was no need or time for discussion of that phase of past happenings. It was the immediate future he was concerned with.

"I have heard of that at the farm," he said. "It is one reason why I want to see Mr. Clegg. If he is really out, can't you tell me where I shall be able to find him?"

But Mrs. Trevoise was either wifely secretive or abjectly ignorant. From a sudden hardening of her eyes, usually so benevolently maternal, Tony was inclined to suspect the first alternative. If he had not been so sure of her allegiance he would have resented her attitude.

I don't know where he is, Master Tony," she replied. "He breakfasts at eight and went out directly afterwards. He'll have to be at the church at noon or Mrs. Burbury will give stood up, straightening his tall form till his head nearly touched the smoke-blackened rafters, smiling whimsically at the stodgy boy who looked such a fool, yet was so very, very wise.

"I shall have to stop this wedding after all, Tom, but first, not being blessed with your brains let me be clear about two things," he said. "The curate, Clegg, and Kenyon put their heads together over this job?"

"Didn't I tell you that, after he'd done being a tramp Mr. Kenyon pretended to be Mr. Clegg's father?"

"Yes, yes, of course, Tom. I can't keep track of these things like you, you know. I'm only a soldier, not a detective, nor a lawyer. Either thing you're sure Miss Gaspard is still down at Mike Hever's amphibious shanty on the beach?"

"She was last night. I did a mooch round after dark."

"Then I shall take a mooch round in broad daylight," said Tony, making for the kitchen door. "And it don't need a brainy person to advise you to stay here on the quiet for the next hour or two. I can quite understand that Morgan wants to wring your neck."

He was gone before Tom could plead to be allowed to accompany him. His wits were not trained to grapple with the higher problems, but light had been vouchsafed to him at last. He had been fooled, and he would break the bonds of his foolery. He would go up to the Court and tell Morgan that he held himself absolved of his promise—that he would spoil the plot of which he and Mavis Conlyn were the principal victims. With that threat hanging over him Morgan would take to flight, if he was the nimble scoundrel he seemed to be.

Tony took the short cut over the moor past the abandoned mine and rang the bell at the front door of the Court. Jevons, who seemed as unmoved as ever, opened to him, wearing the official smirk of the well-trained butler.

"No, Sir Anthony, I am sorry, but you are a few minutes too late," he answered the inquiry. "Mr. Morgan has already left the house. Perhaps you may have heard that an interesting—"

"Oh, cut that," Tony broke in roughly. "I understood that the—er—figure was for twelve o'clock. It's nothing like that."

"My master informed me that he had a call to pay before going to the church, and that that was why he was starting so early," replied Jevons, still respectful, but with a wary eye for a curious change in his foxy scrutiny had discerned in the young baronet's hitherto careless face.

"Do you know where he was going to call?" Tony pressed him.

Jevons emitted the deprecatory cough of the faithful servant asked to betray his employer's confidence.

"I haven't the least idea, Sir Anthony. Mr. Morgan is a very reticent gentleman about his own business."

The butler's politely impudent reply irritated the caller to take him by the throat and choke him.

Tony resisted the impulse and turned away without a word. But to himself he muttered:

"I shall have to try and find him."

CHAPTER XXXI A Mysterious Hint

Sir Anthony, as he strode away from the main entrance of Conlyn Court, was a purposeful man, and his purpose was to confront Jasper Morgan with the least possible delay and threaten him with his intention to disregard the promise into which he had been inveigled. From what Tom Burbury had told him he thought it probable that Morgan might have gone down to the stranded wreck to assure himself that Mike Hever, the confederate who had proved such a thorn in his side, and whose explosive force he had found it so difficult to control, would not break out till he had achieved his object.

Tony looked at his watch. It was half past ten. There was plenty of time to drop in at Laurence Clegg's lodgings and see if the little curate could improve on the boy's story.

Afterwards he would go down to Hever's stronghold on the beach. He chose, therefore, the way along the drive, out through the lodge gates and so down into the village.

At the curate's lodgings he had to endure an enthusiastic welcome from Mrs. Trevoise, who was almost as devoted an adherent as her sister at the farm. But when the landlady had exhausted her greetings, and her lodger was asked for, she could only shake her head and reply with an air of mystery that Mr. Clegg was not at home.

"Maybe you're wishful to speak to him about this foul wrong he's got to do our Miss Mavis up to the church presently," she added, with a shrewd glance at the young baronet's face.

"That's about the size of it," rejoined Tony. "I am not very well acquainted with the chap, but he's a good sort, isn't he, Mrs. Trevoise?"

"If fighting your battles makes him one he's all that," declared the curate's second mother, as she was wont to call herself. "He and his father, too! Rich that, when his father was gathered to his fathers ten years and more ago."

Farm Architecture and Building

Don't waste feed, but give them all they want by building a feeder like this. One side of the roof is hinged so that it can be opened for filling, and note adjustable feed slide which can be adjusted for either coarse or fine feed. These are now being used extensively in hog-raising communities, and have proved themselves highly satisfactory.

Conditions are Still Critical

Labor Conditions are Delaying the Resumption of Business

Anxiety as to the building program for the west is being keenly felt, as at present there is great depression in industrial circles," said C. F. Roland in an interview. "Factories cannot operate without orders, and they cannot obtain orders for future delivery until they can guarantee production at a price that the conditions will warrant, and which will not be above the current prices at the time of delivery. Builders cannot go ahead without contracts. Raw materials must be procured at reasonable prices, labor schedules must be fixed, tax rates must be adjusted, transportation charges must be ascertained and a thousand and one things that enter into the cost of manufacturing must be carefully investigated before business will resume its normal conditions."

"The present labor conditions are not helping matters along, but they are delaying the resumption of business; for that most important item of the cost of production is an unstable and doubtful quantity. Many manufacturers are granting higher wages, which matters little to them as long as their mills are not running, but when they do start labor costs must be fixed, at least for a reasonable period, as a basis of cost-finding. It is not so much a question of price as it is of stability; for no manufacturer will contract his product at a price which is liable to be exceeded in the cost of production before that contract is completed."

"Such are the conditions in many lines of business. Others are not so seriously affected, but at present, but they, too, will sooner or later be compelled to reckon the costs."

"Our wealth is in the land, forests, mines, water powers and other resources of nature, and in the big plants, buildings, machines, railways and equipment of every kind that capital has furnished for converting these resources into the commodities of trade and distributing them to the consumer. Capital can do nothing without labor—neither can labor develop this wealth without capital. They must be used together, and it's up to Canada to get and to keep all these forces of production in action, if we can expect to pay our war pledges. Manufacturers, merchants, financial institutions and business generally, are studying on a large scale, economy and greater efficiency."

"Go ahead and put yourself right with Superintendent Noakes and the other rustic blockheads by all means."

Poor Tony felt the ground slipping from under his feet. "But don't you see, damn you," he began to bluster, "that when I'm out of it you'll be in—up to the neck. It will be as clear as daylight to them you lumbered the crime on to me so that you might do it yourself. You will be in quod within an hour of my making my statement."

Morgan turned with raised eyebrows to his weird companion. "Hear that, Zim?" he sneered. "Distinctly actionable, eh? You may be wanted as a witness and you'd better make a note of it. Though as I am going to be married this morning to a charming young lady, and can make allowance for jealousy, I dare say that I shall treat these libellous remarks in a generous spirit. Come along, Zim. It is etiquette for the bridegroom to be first at the church."

Profit in Poultry

Hens With a Record That Is Hard to Beat

A remarkable demonstration of the profit-making capacity of the ordinary hen and of the suitability of the climate in Alberta to egg production is reported by A. Stevenson, of Edmonton, who devotes part of his spare time to his flock of thirty White Leghorn hens.

During the month of February these thirty hens produced 564 eggs, which sold for $35.25. The total cost of food supplies for this period was $5.20, leaving a net profit of $30.05.

On the coldest day of the month Mr. Stevenson received thirty eggs. He has already begun on the new season hatching program, the first brood of chickens appearing on February 11th and another brood was expected about the 4th of March. For the months of January and February these thirty hens produced 1,118 eggs.

Mr. Stevenson's records show that hens can be kept profitably here even in the coldest weather.

Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa. — "For many months I was not able to do any work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrborg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

WORKING DRAWINGS AND HOUSE PLANS

Working drawings of the buildings shown on this page every week may be obtained from the Editor at the nominal price of $5.00 per set. In the case of this design the working drawings may also be obtained through the local lumber dealer if he is a member of the Western Lumbermen's Association.

Efficiency is as necessary on the farm as it is in the factory, but the unsettled political situation is such that the farmer is really giving more study to the tariff and California winters, than he is to efficiency on the farm. What the west really needs, is 40 bushels of wheat to the acre instead of 20—100 bushels of oats instead of 50—30 head of cattle to the square mile instead of 2—100 hogs to the square mile instead of 1, and ten times as much butter, eggs, and poultry produced as at present.

"Greater production all round and a greater Canadian spirit for using goods made by Canadian labor, will yet be the solution of unemployment and this will increase national prosperity to that point where everybody will be making a reasonable investment from their labor and capital. A determined policy of production and expansion should be acted upon at once, and if Canada's tariff is high or low in spots, all economic and independent survey of those particular features should be carried out and a satisfactory adjustment based on facts be arrived at by all interests concerned. I doubt if there are many offices in the west through which has passed a greater volume of correspondence and comment on this subject than this office," said Mr. Roland, "and I venture to say that a great majority of the masses are of the opinion that no hasty legislation, that is going to effect the revenues of the country so much, should be put through by a wave of the hand at this critical period in our history."

Electricity Lightens Woman's Work

Solid comfort in the modern household depends to a great extent on the degree to which electricity is used to lighten the burden of the housewife. Baking, sweeping, laundry work, dish washing are all being done more easily and more satisfactorily through the scientific and practical application of electricity. The development of the electric washer and the competition among the various manufacturers to produce the perfect machine—perfection being measured by results—has been the means of inducing a scientific analysis of the operation of clothes washing.

The method of attacking the problem is interesting. It had first to be decided just what "dirty" is. In general it proved on analysis to be a combination of grease with dust. The simplified problem was the removal of the "dirty." The age old method of rubbing the clothes on a washboard was subjected to analysis. It has proven that the place occupied by the corrugated washboard in the combination of soiled cloth, soap, and water was due to the fact that the corrugations provided air pockets; that the process of rubbing resulted in the pocketed air forcing the solution of soap and water through the fabric to be cleaned; and hence the clean clothes.

The actual friction of surface against surface did no good, but only provided wear and tear on the garment.

The modern electric washer demonstrates the efficiency that results from the scientific application of the facts discovered through scientific analysis.

Troops Cheer Comrades on Transport

London. — A stirring scene typical of inter-colonial comradeship cemented on the battle field, occurred in Liverpool recently when the steamer Scotian, packed with homeward-bound Canadians, was leaving the port and passed a transport moored in the dock crowded with Australians. Cheers and counter-cheers echoed along the riverside wharves, as the comrades from the Great Bear, and the Southern Cross bade a long farewell, while the bands played the Maple Leaf and Auld Lang Syne.

Paint Suggestion

Building Page Editor: I would like to add a few words to "Well Wisher's" letter of last week with reference to the need for paint protection for the residential as well as the business section. If property owners could be brought to consider this matter for a few minutes I am sure there would be no lack of work for the many returned painters when spring opens up.

Paint is looked on generally as more or less of a luxury, whereas the main object in painting is preservation. A coat of good paint properly applied forms a thin elastic film which is both wind and waterproof. This waterproof film preserves the lumber against the combined attacks of sun and rain and prevents the damage by warping and cracking that is suffered by the building left unpainted from year to year.

"Well Wisher" is very near to facts when he mentions the almost criminal waste of building material that goes on. The cry has been "production of new homes" with no thought for the existing buildings and the need for their preservation.

The price of paint is a small item when compared with the damage done to a building left unpainted, and the longer the painting is neglected the greater the damage done with the consequent need for more paint to remedy the action of sun and rain.

I think there is room for an educative campaign in your columns to point out the evils resulting from the neglect of the most elementary care

It is understood Canada will supply Rumania with seed grain and agricultural implements.

In the Springtime

It's just at this time of the year that we need something taken from Nature to restore the vital forces.

People get sick because they go away from Nature, and the only way to get well is to go back. Something grows out of the ground in the form of vegetation to cure almost every ill. Some of these vegetable growths are understood by man, and some are not. Animals, if you would seem, know what to do when they are sick better than men and women. Observers have noted that a sick horse, dog or cat will stop eating food and seek out some vegetable growth in the field or yard, which, when found and eaten, often restores appetite and health. Haven't you seen these animals do this very thing yourself?

Value of Canadian Farms

The annual report of the Dominion bureau of statistics shows the average value of farm land, including improved and non-improved farms, to be $46 an acre as compared with $44 an acre in 1917 and $41 in 1916. By provinces the value is highest in British Columbia, where it averages $149 an acre, this being exactly the same figure as in 1917. The value of farm land in Manitoba averages $32, as compared to $31 in 1917; in Saskatchewan $29, against $26; and in Alberta $28, against $27 in 1917.

Alberta's Dairy Industry Growing

Despite the adverse labor conditions ruling last year, there was a fair increase in Alberta's dairy business over that of the previous year, the total production of creamery butter being 9,100,000 pounds in 1918 compared with 8,944,000 pounds in 1917. Ten years ago the total production of dairy butter amounted to 2,550,000 pounds, so that a gain of 6,550,000 pounds has been made in the yearly output during this period. During the same time the production of cheese has also increased, from 88,570 pounds to 650,000 pounds in 1918. The average number of milk cows per farm in Alberta is now 5.6.

Pungent South

African Comment

Former Premier Thinks President Wilson Will Shirk Burden
(London Times-Public Ledger Cable. Copyright by Montreal Star.)
Capetown. — In the course of the budget debate in the house of assembly, John Merriman, one time premier of Cape Colony, made a reference to the league of nations which indicated the general South African attitude on the mandatory theory.

The question was asked, "How did the government propose to deal with German South West Africa in the future. Was it going to receive a mandate of the league of nations, telling it what to do?"

A Nationalist member interjected, "South Africa was the league's father," referring obviously to General Smuts.

Mr. Merriman replied: "I don't care who is the league's father, but I believe it emanated from that good man President Wilson. Mr. Wilson is a remarkable man, brimful of lofty ideas. But ask him to take, say East Africa over to manage it himself. He would not touch it. He will tell you what to do, and issue the mandate, but he will not stir a finger himself."

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if cross, sick, peevish, constipated

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

A Ranchman's Success

Alberta Rancher Disposes of Holdings for Half a Million Dollars

The purchase of a cattle ranch of 11,500 acres near High River, Alberta, together with three thousand head of stock for half a million dollars a few days ago was interesting not because of the magnitude of the transaction alone, but because it brought the purchaser into the foreground.

This was Roderick R. Macleay, who has long been a prominent rancher in the province.

Twenty years ago, without capital, he came to Alberta, and by his energy and ability, has succeeded in building up a great beef producing ranch in the meantime. During the war his beef turn-off ran into millions of pounds. The acquisition of the above described property will place Mr. Macleay first among the great ranchers of Alberta.

But who will say that the opportunities for success in Alberta today for the man with energy and ability are not so good as they were twenty years ago?

BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SPRING

The Spring is a time of anxiety to mothers who have little ones in the home. Conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds, constipation or colic and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Getting Ready for Seeding

Calgary, Alta. — Farmers throughout the south are busily preparing for spring seeding, and all reports indicate that the acreage will be the heaviest in the history of the south, provided those in need of it have no difficulty in securing seed grain. None of the farmers are curtailing their crop area to any extent because of the lack of a fixed price for wheat. However, the acreage is likely to be heavier in proportion than in years past. Last year on the Lethbridge railway division over 2,000,000 acres were seeded. This year there is likely to be well over 2,500,000 acres in crop owing to the fact that a great deal of new breaking was done, while the crop failure in certain districts resulted in land being prepared early for this year's seeding.

Cured Mrs. Larson's Sore Back, and Put an End to Her Son's Sleepless Nights.

Bergland, Ont., April 7. (Special). — "I am glad to have an opportunity to give fair credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills, for the good they did me, and also my family," says Mrs. John S. Larson, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place. "We have been using them as a family remedy for sore back."

"At the time I ordered Dodd's Kidney Pills I did it more for a fancy than from any belief in their curing value."

"But I was all in from an aching back. I caught a bad cold and that settled on my kidneys so bad that I could not sleep, and I could not work. When I stooped forward my back was so sore that I had to brace up my body by putting my elbows on my knees and I could hardly rise up again."

"After taking two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills the pain decreased and my back is fairly good unless I overwork."

"Also one of my young sons had diseased kidneys, so that he had to get up every half hour during the night. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him and now he can sleep all night."

"I am very grateful to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have been curing kidney ills for over twenty-five years. Ask your neighbors about them.

Helping Farmers To Prosperity

Rural Credits Scheme Proving of Great Benefit

More than $215,000 was lent to 368 farmers, more than 10,000 acres of virgin prairie was put under cultivation and at least five carloads of livestock were purchased where no purchases would have been possible, as a result of operations of the Manitoba rural credits scheme, according to details contained in the first annual report of this branch of governmental activity. The full value of the work of these societies will not be seen for a few years. Some of them did not begin lending until the spring season had passed so that their respective credits do not represent the total which it is anticipated a normal season would show. There is every indication that some of these societies granting limited lines of credit will require much greater ones the coming year. Twenty new charters have been granted in all of which districts it is expected lending will begin in the spring.

In assisting individual farmers to increase the production of their land, these societies are increasing the general prosperity of the province. The loans made have enabled many farmers to extend their operations in a manner otherwise impossible, and the effect of their work will be cumulative.

Submarine Losses Compared

Neutrals and Small Entente Nations Suffered More Than U.S.

Washington. — American shipping suffered comparatively little at the hands of German submarines during the war, according to complete figures on allied and neutral ship losses, made available recently. Only 125 American vessels were lost, as compared to 3,147 British. In tonnage figures, the United States lost 385,967 tons, against Britain's 7,818,870, navy department figures show.

Neutrals and some of the smaller entente nations suffered more than the United States. Greece lost 162 vessels and Norway 781.

Washington. — General Pershing reports to the war department that there still are 5,500 officers and men of the expeditionary forces listed as missing. This total compares with the British official figures of 161,800 missing and the French of 290,000.

A Mother's Tribute

THIS letter from Mrs. Roberts gives such a fine idea of the value of Dr. Chase's medicines for use in the home that we shall publish it without further comment:

Mrs. Everett Roberts, 44 Endicott Ave., Halifax, N.S., writes:

"I feel it a pleasure as well as my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Ointment. After the shock of the Halifax explosion my system was all run down, and I was so weak that I could not walk. Night after night I lay awake unable to sleep. Nothing did me any good until one of my neighbors recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. After a treatment of this medicine I can positively say that my health and strength have been restored, and I can now sleep well and do my work as well as ever."

"I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for my baby, who had ringworms all over his face. I tried almost everything I knew of without success until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment. This cured him in a short time. I would not be without either of these medicines in the house, and trust this may induce others to give them a trial and be convinced of their merits."

You can scarcely ask for a stronger guarantee of the value of a medicine than the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., on the box. This is for your protection against imitations and substitutes. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.
